Brad and Juan,

I have sent you just now my response to the note he sent last night, which occasioned this letter to Brad. (My flight out of Dallas was delayed and I just got home at 3:30!)

Brad, I think you know, but just to be sure...the only restriction is that Phil may not enter the plant site. OxyChem has moved the regular meeting location to a public venue so he can attend, and they are still answering his questions.

Thanks to both of you for attending the meeting and tour last night. I think it definitely added value to an already worthwhile effort.

Diane

Good morning,

I hope you had a good attendance at the CIG meeting last night. I was not at the meeting because the venue was switched at the last moment and held at the plant site instead of the scheduled Learning Center in Haysville. I am banned from ever setting foot on Oxy property because in the middle of last year Oxy received credible evidence that I am a threat to safety and security at the site. The charge was put forward by KDHE and supported by Oxy staff, according to the site manager.

I have a few questions about the carbon filters and will send them along later, since you are the only source of information available. My primary concern is about the proposed information repository. In trying to get others interested in the site situation information is scarce. A place where individuals can go and get a brief history and or an update prior to the solutions to be imposed by the EPA would be nice. Please take a few minutes to update the repository event. Thank you.
